

Sale of Hedley Hydraulics to R&G Fluid Power Group

Strategic Corporate Finance acted as lead deal adviser to the shareholders of Hedley Hydraulics Limited on their sale to R&G Fluid Power Group Limited

Operating from premises in Wakefield and Gateshead, Hedley Hydraulics design, manufacture, distribute and install high-quality hydraulic engineering systems. They also supply cylinders, pumps, motors, valves and all types of hydraulic components to all industries and are a leading Parker Hydraulic Technical Centre.

R&G Fluid Power supplies a comprehensive range of fluid power components and services to OEMs, distributors, systems integrators and end users in the UK fluid power industry with 8,000 live customer accounts in every UK industrial sector.

Greg Barker, director of Strategic Corporate Finance acted as lead deal advisor to the shareholders of Hedley Hydraulics, Steve Davies, John Massey and Jeremy Booker.

Commenting on the deal, Steve Davies said “It’s been a pleasure to have you on our team; R&G were the right fit for Hedley, so thank you for bringing them to the table and helping us to get the deal done”.
